4 Tasks – Assessment Schedules

Task
1-4

Short Description: Each of the tasks has a full description regarding what must be done and where it has to be placed in the folder. Here is a short summary of what is generally expected of you.

When you hand in ALL the assignments, please put them in numerical order. Start by placing the marking sheet with your photo visible in the front cover pocket of the file or 30-page display pocket book or lever file.

1. Lecture Video: Place the Marking Schedule and a copy which your tutor has completed back-to-back in position no 29. Do not place the original VHS video tape or DVD in this pocket, but hand it in separately. Clearly mark it: Book number, Lecture Name, Student Name and Student Number.

2. Preaching: This is a group assessment. With the help of your tutor, 5 people are chosen to be part of this group. Instruct them about the purpose of the assessment: to identify your good and bad points. The three assessments that give the best differentiation are accepted and the other two are marked as "eliminated". The scores of the three are added up and the average (out of 100) counts towards your year mark. Put this assignment in position no 30 (with the marks showing to the back).

3. Self-Test: Task 4 and 5 go together into the cover display pocket. You must do this test right at the beginning of your studies, marking in pencil. Expect a low score. You are now aware of what the Outcomes of the course are. Expect to improve drastically in the next few months. Then do the test again in ink at the end of your studies with the tutor present. You must end up with a score of between 60% and 80% for it to be meaningful.

4. Tutor Test: This is a more practical test and contains those practical outcomes which only your tutor, who knows you, can judge.

- Provide a Stiffy: We will scan through the assignment reports to such an extent that we will choose one or more of the reports in which you have done exceptionally well or on which you have spent more time on than the others. The stiffy (or CD) of all the reports must be placed in the front cover pocket of the display pocket book (or file).

Let the tutor enter his/her marks for the oral tests, tasks and the assignment reports as described on the assessment records.

Tutor Guidelines

Task

T

Definition: The Tutor of a Bachelor of Ministry Student

A private teacher, typically one who teaches a single pupil or a very small group. A university or college teacher responsible for assigned students. USA: An assistant lecturer in a college or university. — Concise Oxford Dictionary, 10th Edition

Expectations of the Tutor

A B.Min student cannot study on his/her own. We (CLT) need someone to walk an academic distance with the "learner" to assist in the learning process. S/he needs someone to give guidance, advice, a sounding board, a sound opinion. Such a person has to have a thorough familiarity with the field of ministry and preferably understand the Charismatic/Pentecostal way of thinking. Various references throughout the B.Min. Guide are made to the task of the Tutor. We summarize:

Practical Marking

The student has four practical tasks to do. These are: Lecture DViDeo (marked by you, the tutor), Preaching (group marking), Self-assessment (tutor moderated) and Tutor Assessment (marked by you). The Tutor is the appointed person to be responsible for marking or to oversee the marking as is described in the text. These tasks all have a clearly numbered marking schedule in this blue book.

Taking the Oral Tests

The student reads up on a lot of subjects in 28 fields. Only some of this material will be used in the required reports. The other material is for the student's own upliftment and to become informed about the various aspects of ministry, which leads to personal growth. In order to gauge the depth of understanding as a result of this reading, the Tutor needs to have regular interviews/oral tests with the student. These interviews may also take place in a group setting and could lead to interesting discussions. A mark is allocated to these sessions/tests. The tutor will also know whether the material was indeed read.

Feedback on the Assignment Reports

As the student writes the reports according to the required format (page 5-8, 13-19), the tutor will be able to give constructive comments about how well the student is doing. The Tutor will be asked and can answer the questions listed on page 16. The report should then be written in its final form and stored until all assignments have been complied with. The work is only then submitted to CLT for grading.

Supportive Role of the Tutor

To summarize, the Tutor is the tangible presence for the student and gives him/her all the feedback the student needs. Correspondence training is unsuccessful because there is no Tutor involved. You, the Tutor will make all the difference!

T1. Lecture Video

Task

1

Guideline: Make a video on casset or DVD of one to three lectures.

This is the lecture of your choice from one of the lecture books of the CLT course. If it is to be used on the Internet it has to be in English.

Used on the Internet

CLT may use this video to make selections for publication on the Internet. This is part of the teaching material through which international students will be able to study. They will view selections of 20 to 50 seconds to highlight certain important sections in the lecture. Your video may be used to make these selections.

Preparation

The student makes a video tape with ordinary home-video equipment with good lighting, and supplies the master on which the tape was made (not a copy). The cost of this tape must be borne by the student and becomes the property of CLT.

Copyright

The student also gives full rights to the tape for use on the Internet and by CLT for training in any of its programs. This will not limit the student in any way for future use of his own material. (It just means that CLT may freely use this tape.)

Follow the text

Since the video is to be used to illuminate concepts in the printed text of CLT material, the printed text of the lecture must be followed. Do not read the text from the book. You may alternate quoting some concepts from the book and explaining the concepts. The explanations are of particular importance since the video clips used on the Internet will be extractions of a few seconds to explain to the student in China, Libya or Tibet what the meaning of a certain passage is.

Make Selections

The student must now make about 10 or 15 selections from the tape to go with different paragraphs in the lecture. The page and paragraph must be indicated, the minute and second position timed from the beginning of the lecture and the duration of the clip in seconds:

Selection 1. E77 page 23 para 4 – Starting "Now we know ..." 23 min 12 sec – Duration 32 seconds.

Mark the tape: Indicate Book no, Lecture no, Your Name and Student no.

T2. Preaching Assessment

Task

2

Guideline: Group test by 5 people

Note: Mark two of these as "Eliminated" but hand in. This is to test and improve your ability to deliver a good and effective sermon.

Text books: The Art of Preaching E87

Assignment:

Ask 5 leaders, colleagues or students to fill in the assessment form during one of your sermons in your home church or wherever you can find an opportunity to preach. Add up the scores and select the three best [differentiating] score sheets.

'Best': Some of your colleagues may be kind to you and give you a very high score. However, the aim is not to have a high score, but an indication of where your strengths and your weaknesses are and then to learn from this. A string of 5's or a bundle of low marks are not necessarily very helpful since they do not differentiate. The "best" score sheets will therefore be the three that have managed not to give high or low marks or even all the same average marks.

This will be a learning experience for you, the preacher, and also for the group involved in the group test who will have to analyse the sermon regarding all the elements that a good expository sermon, based on Scripture, should have.

Preparation:

Read Lecture 3 in the text book 'The Art of Preaching' to prepare yourself for the assessment. In this way you will know what is expected of you.

Make 5 copies of pages 24 to page 31 of this lecture book, which the 5 assessors can study beforehand. Make sure they are clear about the meaning of each of the criteria on which you will be assessed.

Hand out the assessment sheets beforehand in order to give time to the assessors to study them and to ask you questions about it.

Add up the scores of each assessment. Select the three assessments that most closely reflect your preaching style and ability.

Write a short report to accompany the sheets in the transparent pocket.

Report the scores of all 5, say which two you eliminated and why, point out the similarities of the different assessments, mention a few outstanding differences, indicate what you learnt from this and write down some of the comments from the assessment group e.g. what they said they learnt from this exercise.

T2. Preaching Assessment Sheet

Task
2

Preacher: Date:

Assessor: Sheet No: (Mark 1-5)

Guideline: Group test by 5 people (The highest and lowest score of the 5 will be marked "eliminated"). The purpose of the assessment is not to provide a mark to the student but rather to differentiate between his/her stronger and weaker points) Give a mark between 1 and 5. 1 and 2 indicate a failure in that particular area. 3, 4 and 5 are pass marks indicating average, good and excellent. The assessor must try to avoid giving a lot of only 5's or only 3's.

In a Nutshell — Bachelor of Ministry

Tutor: At registration you will be required to inform us (and CU) who your Tutor will be. S/he will guide you, sign reports on your reading, take your oral tests and do practical assessments based on your ministry and academic skills. This person must know you relatively well and have experience and knowledge of a ministry environment on a professional level.

1 Reading: The most important part of the Bachelor of Ministry is your reading preparation. This is the compulsory basic reading for the assignments and especially the oral tests which may take 1-1½ hours each to complete with the Tutor.

2 Tutor Oral Tests: These tests are to ensure that you have a foundational knowledge of the whole field of learning and at least know how to find essential information. (This counts for 28%)

3 Assignments: Once you have done the research through reading, you can then display a range of skills for which you earn 56% of your marks. You choose one or more of the reports (as instructed) for every one of the 28 assignments. Some of these reports may be selected to be placed on the Internet.

4 Lecture Video: You present a lecture which is recorded on tape and select 10 to 15 cuts suitable for use on the Internet. (4%)

5 Preaching: You will be assessed on your preaching skills by a group of people appointed by your tutor, to give you an important mark for your ability in this area. (4%)

6 Self-Assessment: You will complete a test during the year and even adjust your responses as you improve on a range of academic skills. Your tutor will moderate this assessment in consultation with you. It will show us how you think about your own abilities – an interesting learning process. (4%)

7 Tutor-Assessment: You will complete another but similar test during the year. This one is finally marked by your tutor to assess a range of your practical skills. (4%)

Note: The student who is registered with Calvary University or any other such institution completes the Bachelor in two stages which are both called short courses: a Diploma in Shepherding and a Diploma in Church Management. Each of the short courses consists of subjects which are now called Courses. The two short courses which make up the Bachelor of Ministry programme consist of 8 Courses (formally called subjects). A programme leads to a qualification for which an institution needs accreditation in order to issue a certificate: i.e. Bachelor of Ministry. This may be national (South Africa) or International. CLT has no accreditation in SA for a Bachelor. Calvary University has international accreditation and needs no registration in SA, nor will it apply for SA accreditation, just like Oxford or Harvard have not.
